About

EquineWorld Stable Management was created to make the life of a busy stable manager easier. This application keeps track of current boarders, feed records, training schedules, upcoming shows, and health records.

How It Works

EquineWorld allows the user to view the upcoming events once the user logs into the application via the dashboard. The events are broken down into categories, so the user can view all of the different events for a category via a list or calendar view. The priority or completeness of events is indicated by colors. The user also has the ability to view or the details of each event. The application also supports multiple users. There is also an option to download and print out the events for the user's records.

Target Audience

EquineWorld can be used by anyone who owns stable or even just owns a horse. The stable size can be anything from a backyard pleasure barn or top-level training or breeding operation.
